Inspired by Melanie Ham. Original baby blanket pattern: <http://www.iheartstitching.com/baby-blanket-crochet-video-tutorial/>

Materials:

- Bernat Baby Blanket Yarn - number of balls depends on the size you make it.
- Crochet Hook – US P/11.5 mm.
- Scissors

Directions:

Ch = chain, sl st = slip stitch, dc = double crochet (U.S.)

If you choose to make this blanket smaller or larger, for the initial chain, just be sure that the number of chains you use is divisible by 6. 42, 48, 54, 60, 66, 72. etc.

To join a new ball of yarn, tie the end of the yarn to the end of the 2nd ball and continue crocheting. Trim any ends that are sticking out.

1. Make a slip stitch and chain 60 stitches together.
2. Not turning your work, count back 4 stitches from the hook and do 2 dc in the same spot, skip a chain, 2 dc and continue in the same manner along foundation chain until the end.
3. Once you reach the end, 1 dc in the last chain.
4. Ch 3 and turn.

5. 1 dc in first chain, skip 1 ch, 2 dc and repeat until the end (the 2 dc should be in between the “v” stitches front the first row)
6. Using the top chain on the end, place 1 dc. ch 3 and turn.
7. Continue steps 5 and 6 until you've made the blanket as long as you'd like. I made my blanket 50 rows.
8. Fasten off.
9. When adding the fringe, cut pieces of yarn to about double the length you want the fringe to be (mine were 8 inches each total length). Fold your yarn in half. The side with the loop goes through the opening in the boarder of your blanket. Then get the side with the loose ends of the yarn and pull them tightly through the loop to secure. Continue until both ends of your blanket have fringe across the entire width of the blanket.
